

/WHAT IS ASSESSED HERE:
HOW YOU UNDERSTAND AND EXPERIENCE INTERCONNECTEDNESS, VERSUS VALUES LIKE AUTONOMY AND INDEPENDENCE.

What this tells you:

This graph shows two dimensions, the behavioral and affective. This means that you connect emotionally with this aspect, and act upon it, perhaps without a full understanding of why it is important. You may find it interesting to deepen your understanding of this principle.

YOUR SMI RESPONSES INDICATE THAT

you believe independence and autonomy are very important aspects of human life, perhaps as a combination of a given right, a personal goal and a precious virtue to cultivate. They signify ownership and accountability to you.

Interestingly, your choices in the questionnaire also indicate that you are a person who is appreciative about other people's input, feeling gratitude in your heart for their support even to your personal accomplishments.

You are comfortable paying attention to the input of stakeholders when analyzing a problem and seeking effective solutions, seeing yourself as part of a larger whole.

/THINK ABOUT HOW YOU CAN FURTHER LEVERAGE YOUR STRENGTHS AND MANAGE SOME OF THE LIMITATIONS WHICH MAY BE HOLDING YOU BACK:

While certain cultures have a collectivistic framework, most of the western-northern culture - widely exported and globalized - is individualistic and celebrates personal achievement. Do you experience this unspoken expectation in your daily life - to be independent, to outperform others, to be self-reliant or perhaps to demonstrate your value in competitive settings? Have you sensed the contradiction between these two paradigms, one valuing competition and self-reliance, the other promoting collaboration and inclusion?

How realistic and even feasible is this idea of autonomy? Let's pause for a moment: Can you name one achievement that was purely and authentically your own without another person playing any role in it?

/THOUGHTS TO PONDER WHEN YOU CONSIDER THE SM:

The polarities of independence vs. interconnectedness and competition vs. collaboration are of particular relevance when focusing on sustainability. The environmental and social challenges are complex and multidimensional, making it impossible for any person to solve on their own. It is only through collective thinking, action and collaboration of multiple stakeholders that we will be able to develop alternatives. (This, by the way, makes sustainability a great opportunity for contributing personal skills to a larger cause).

The combination of your responses seem to indicate that your heart and your actions have embraced collaboration, stakeholder inclusion and participatory solutions. You are on the right track – the old paradigm of competition and individual achievement may be outdated soon, particularly with the planetary sustainability challenges.

/HOW ABOUT YOU TRY:

We invite you to explore what autonomy means for you. What are the roots of this value for you, perhaps in your upbringing or in your current context? Is this a priority for you, or is it something automatically inherited, or maybe adopted without giving it much thought?

Are you able to share your perspectives with others? How can you bring your collaborative spirit to new contexts, where it might be much needed? You might help expand other people’s thinking horizon.

That can be an interesting task ahead.

When we see interconnectedness, we understand the importance of diversity, and our decisions and actions become more inclusive, which contributes to the sustainability of the whole.
