

/WHAT IS ASSESSED HERE:
HOW YOU THINK ABOUT THE MEANING, ROLE AND VALUE OF
MINDFULNESS AND ITS PRACTICE, AND HOW YOU FEEL ABOUT IT.

What this tells you:

When the graph is well balanced, it means that you have a good understanding of the aspect of the Sustainability Mindset being assessed, that you are able to connect with your feelings about it, and that you tend to act upon what you know and feel. This is a good start, and you might want to think about circumstances or contexts in which you would like to act more, understand better or further explore your feelings.

YOUR SMI RESPONSES INDICATE THAT you have a clear understanding of the world we live in and the importance of mindfulness.

You realize that consumption is rewarded, linking “who we are” with “what we do, have, or own”. You see this materialistic pattern in society, with its consequences on how we have to keep busy doing things, seeking to make money to be able to belong, feel respected and valued. You realize the unfortunate impact that this implicit message has on our health and well-being. It’s like being trapped in a race to pursue an elusive and short-lived happiness.

/YOU ARE COMFORTABLE pausing periodically to re-center, experiencing the positive impact on how you feel with yourself, and how you interact with others.

Pausing and stepping away from our task clears your mind, and you can get back with renewed energy. Is this something you remember to do when you need it? If not, how could you help yourself remember it more regularly?

/THINK ABOUT HOW YOU CAN FURTHER LEVERAGE YOUR STRENGTHS AND MANAGE SOME OF THE LIMITATIONS WHICH MAY BE HOLDING YOU BACK:

The world you live in comes with many challenges that you need to attend. You seem to experience at times the tension and stress that comes with the daily difficulties. You may notice it in your health, sleeping patterns, or in how you relate to others as a result. When the reality is challenging and poses a high demand on your physical, emotional and psychological systems, you try to manage the best you can.

You may know that studies show the physical and emotional consequences of a constant focus on doing while overlooking the more profound dimensions of “being,” such as reflection, spiritual or religious practices, time to recharge and find ourselves, and time to connect with our deeper self. As a matter of fact, you find in some of those contemplative practices a helpful path to regain inner calm.

You seem to have a good understanding of the challenges of our current paradigm - the consequences of an imbalance between doing and being, between mundane action and the attention given to our higher self, our soul.

So here are some questions for you to contemplate:

Understanding the achievement race that we live in, how do these thoughts align with your experience, and with your values?

Does your reality reflect the priorities that are important for you? If not, what are some small changes you can make?

What is mindfulness for you today: Is it a practice or a does it form a part of your lifestyle?

/HOW ABOUT YOU TRY:

What would need to be true for you to take your practice to the next level, and what might that look like for you?

How easy is it for you to “catch yourself” in the moment when you are not fully present, not mindfully listening, or letting your emotional reactions control you, as opposed to your wiser self?

/THOUGHTS TO PONDER WHEN YOU CONSIDER THE SM:

From the perspective of a sustainability mindset, mindfulness is both a key practice and an amazing result. Research has shown a direct link between individuals that have some contemplative practices not just with their physical and psychological health, but also with the emergence of feelings of empathy and compassion.

This creates a disposition towards positive social and environmental actions, and the resulting satisfaction feeds a positive reinforcing loop. In other words, the better we feel about something we’ve done, the more we seek to repeat the experience.

When we access and display a more balanced version of ourselves, we convey an unspoken message to the people with whom we interact, not just by what we say or how we behave, but through our attitude and energy. This has a proven positive influence on others, as science has identified with the phenomenon of “emotional contagion.”

In other words, when we develop a sense of peace for ourselves, we are also radiating a gift of peace to the world.

You already know that.

Mindfulness is being fully present, experiencing connectedness with all that is. Mindfulness enhances awareness and compassion, and predisposes to social and environmental actions.
