This graph shows the two dimensions of affective and behavioral, meaning that you have an emotional connection with this aspect, and you also act upon it. We don't have enough data to report whether or how your knowledge and understanding is related to or might support this aspect.

YOUR SMI RESPONSES INDICATE THAT you are a very sensitive person, with an open heart.

You have a skill to connect with your emotions, and also feel for others, with empathy and compassion for their suffering. This is a precious quality, although at times it can be difficult to live with it.

/YOU ARE COMFORTABLE when you can convert the emotional energy into actions, taking a proactive role. Instead of remaining "the victim," you act. We cannot comment how this impacts your thinking, since you indicated (by choosing "neither") that you did not feel represented by either of the available options.

You find small ways in which you are contributing to the problems and seek out those changes you could make to be less a "part of the problem" and become part of the solution. This is a wonderful start.

The more you observe, the more opportunities you will find to make a real difference with a few simple changes to your behavior and habits.

You can practice asking the question: How may I be contributing to this? A simple, yet empowering question.

/THOUGHTS TO PONDER WHEN YOU
CONSIDER THE SM:

Thinking of how we are personally contributing to the planetary challenges may not be something we do daily. Our demanding lives have many obligations and don't leave much time for reflecting on this. We are busy getting things done!

Yet when analyzing the current un-sustainability of our planet, science has clearly established a link between human behaviors in past decisions and the current problems we face. Much attention is now focused on how to repair the damage done, and how to restore damaged, depleted or endangered resources. Scientists and entrepreneurs study how to minimize current or future problems at the environmental or social level, and how to innovate to avoid negative impacts into the future.

If we collectively influenced the place we find ourselves in now (with all of its problems), that means we also hold the key to influence where we will collectively be in the future – we meaning humankind at large, or, from a closer perspective, our families, children and grandchildren.

/HOW ABOUT YOU TRY:

What if we could develop the habit of asking ourselves periodically: how am I contributing to this problem? This question opens a path of inquiry, which automatically leads to expansion of our consciousness. We become more alert to take notice, and thus more open to try out new behaviors.

This same question, by the way, is also a powerful tool that can improve our relationships and interactions with others! So often we focus on what others are doing unto us, which leaves us powerless. When we learn to pay attention to what is our role in the problems we endure, we regain control and can actually do something.

Actively thinking about your contribution is definitely an important milestone in your personal development, with planetary implications.

When we identify the ways in which we are unintentionally contributing to the problems, we have a chance to do something about them. It also expands our consciousness, and develops social sensitivity.
